There is a call for the Democratic County Committee to meet at Harboursburg on Monday, Feb 14

In the Federal Court (Owensboro), ex-postmaster, O. A. Bland, of Louisville, Ky., was fined $1,000 for issuing fraudulent money orders.

The Republican party takes a great deal about reforming the currency, but it is all talk with them. They are slow to act on anything except the distribution of the office. These are given out like hot cakes.

Miss Bland is a bright young woman and therefore will win water in christening the battleship Kentucky. She knows that if she should waste that amount of good whisky it would spoil her father's proud-mint boom.

When the Senator from Colorado sees his wife he will probably tell her that he is sorry he was out of the St. Louis Convention and still more sorry that the Convention was kicked out of the Convention of American Congressmen.

Newton Lindsay doesn't seem much to say about the Legislature calling upon him to resign. This is an evidence that Mr. Lindsay feels quite able to attend to his own business regardless of the members of the Kentucky Legislature.

That little war talk we had last week didn't amount to much. War ships of different nations are moving out in Cuban waters, but there is no immediate danger of war. Uncle Sam is going to keep mighty low and not fight until the force is forced.

W. H. HARRIS' friends assert that he will be the contending man in the next race for the Democratic nomination for Governor, and that his following is now almost strong enough to win for him. Though there is Bill Ellis and W. J. Stone, both personally popular and genuine good Democrats.

Miss Christine Bradley has announced that she will not christen the battleship Kentucky by breaking a bottle of whisky on the occasion. Her idea is to institute a bottle of pure spring water taken from some noted spring in the state instead and she is to have her way about it. She is to be commended for her good sense.

PRESIDENT McKINLEY recently made a house money speech in New York which gladdened the heart of his old friend Mark Hanna. Mr. Hanna is not so much interested in the currency, though as he is managing the office and giving directions to the President as how to distribute them. This is first, and the one thing useful among all Republicans. They do look after the office and get just what they get after.

HARRIS MEETING.

A mass meeting of the Peoples' party, of Breckinridge county, is hereby called to meet at the courthouse in Harboursburg, Feb. 11, 1888, for the purpose of electing executive committee for the ensuing year and electing delegates to the State Convention. This is the first day of Circuit Court. All who are in favor of reform are invited to attend.

Rev. W. F. Hogar came last week from Highway, Ky., and assisted in the protracted meeting at the M. E. church South.

John Whitworth received a letter from W. J. Moore last week, in which the latter stated that he was a candidate for Governor.

I have come in to see you and will after Circuit Court. If you want a first class photograph come now and don't wait for a clear day. I make pictures in cloudy weather as well as clear weather. W. J. Mattingly.

Mrs. Tom Cox died suddenly at her home near Antioch church last Friday evening. Mrs. Cox was formerly the widow Meador, and she and her present husband had only married a few days. Her death was quite a shock to friends in her neighborhood, who was looked upon as a most estimable christian lady.

Some of the boys around here are fixing for the big day for the coming year. The widow Henry Moorman. This point has five hundred acres of woods, and is broken by numerous hollows and it is said there are any number of holes there. The open fields surrounding it will give the hunters a fine chance to view the chase and enjoy the sport. The party will be made up of Chris. Ahl, Richard McMillan, Zeno Hendrick, Cy. Dillard, Frank Greenwell, Sam Beard, Late Miller, Will Jarboe, and many others. There will be about forty dogs to start on the hunt.

BRANDENBURG.

Friday night a first literary we had had for some time.

Miss Nevada Hill is from Louisville. Her medical College nursing from the University of Louisville.

Charles Hardin always brings down the house when he has a speech at the literary.

The spring term of Brandenburg Normal opened this week with a good attendance and more to follow.

Circuit Court has expired and it was unusually dull. Bad roads kept people from town and the docket was light.

"Boss" McJichie is handling the yardstick at J. D. Richard's and would be a fine addition to a measuring party.

Usually my letters will pass muster for spelling, but Mr. Proof Reader, where did you get the word "discovering"?

Who coined it? An American double my "m" in accommodate.

Mrs. Charlie Moorman passed down on the Buckeye State with her husband, who is first clerk, enroute to New Britain. In a letter from Mrs. Ruge she reports a most delightful trip.

"Society is fair in its payments. It gives value for value received always."

Don't take it for granted that you are right when you are right. It is intended.

Don't call the dog a dog. It creates much unhappiness.

A wealthy gentleman and his wife have taken the little Lilly, age 5, at the Lucile House. Two other sisters are at the house to whom the little one is much attached and from whom she is much expected to be parted, but it is best for her future good.

Rev. Philip preached two excellent sermons last Sunday. The ladies of the Baptist church are making an effort to repair their church and get a new carpet. Let us have a candy pulling in the evening. We will have a good program on literary night, charge a small admittance and thus help these good women.

Last Friday night at the Literary Mr. Burton made a most earnest appeal to the people of the community to keep their children in school. He certainly made most generous and most reasonable propositions. Mr. Burton is a professional teacher, whose school is in the cause of education. He is a Christian gentleman as well. Mr. Eugene Hardisty, who has taught here for several years will continue as assistant.

Mrs. Anna Price has charge of the primary room.

It is beneath the dignity of any set of law-makers to treat any gentleman as the present August 1. Body has Senator divided by asking him to read the law. The "traitors have been taken for negroes and they don't want to trade back." Such a speech is fit in alone upon the fair name of this Commonwealth and from a son of her soil and from one purporting to be a gentleman. I certainly would advise all young men to behave a political career. If it leads to this, there's no new one under all the sun. This same city editor is an aid in getting up local affairs of a race order as well as getting in items of our "big war" at present an interesting topic. May our own paper be a "champion of the old black."

"Lug-napp," "Pepper and Salt," "Odds and Ends by a fishing kokak" is last issue of this paper by E. C. Bahary, city editor, formed out of the newsmen I read could for sometime and I am more than glad to note that our enterprising young editor has had occasion to fit to the bill for information as regards "fit odds," "chings" and that he has discovered that Noah's flood did date the biggest mark the same as two of this century and that he has imparted said discovery to his readers. It is indeed quite a coincidence—What is the significance? That February was a good month for plenty of water in the sun. There's no new one under all the sun. This same city editor is an aid in getting up local affairs of a race order as well as getting in items of our "big war" at present an interesting topic. May our own paper be a "champion of the old black."

FACTS AND FANCIES.

Asr--The art cross has struck Cloverport with a vengeance and Gibson bids fair to come under the wire first as the favorite. It is all right to cultivate art, but it is well to remember that profitable crops cannot be produced on sterile soil. "As pretty as a picture," as a saying, old and appropriate. But who ever saw anything as pretty as a picture, except a girl? Nearly all pictures turn out like Smith Duncan's picture. When Smith was a dude he saw a picture of a Sunday school picnic, and the green grass, and gamboling lambs, and moon covered rocks, and cool, rippling brooks, and dense shades made him long to go to one. So he joined the class two days before the next "picnic," and when the time came he dressed to kill and carried a banner, wearing the inscription "God Save Our Country," four miles through the dust and heat. Smith being a new member they made him do the work. The lambs weren't gamboling any that day or else Smith was barred from the game. The rolling stone had gathered no moss, the brooks had quit the rippling business, the green grass was sunburnt and the dense shades were two miles farther in the next valley; there were wiggle tails in the barrel of water, and no handle on the tin cup, the seed ticks and chiggers had assembled at the same place to have a picnic of their own and Smith gave up in despair. Finally a young lady asked him to get her a stuffed egg and a pickle and in his hurried hurry he ran down the road, and in the end of a custer pie, and he hasn't been back since.

Dr. Simons--relates a peculiar falcion story which occurred last Monday on B'wing Green road. His attention was attracted by the sudden attacks of a large and strangely colored hawk which flew over for seconds into the limbs of an apple tree, which stood alone in a field a few rods from a rail fence. The doctor's curiosity was soon aroused and he stopped to see what water hawk was after, he had not long to wait for he saw a grey squirrel run down the tree and scamper to the fence near him with the hawk hot in pursuit. The squirrel saved its life by clearly outwitting the hawk. At each onslaught from the cannibal the squirrel would dart through the fence and wait until the bird came on his side when he would reverse his position.

FRIGHTENED--Possibly not known outside of Cloverport, but it is late faulted near millions can't be counted numerous still they shudder with horror, but this is not the story the writer endeavors to relate: On last Tuesday night, and you'll remember what a dreadful and gloomy night it was every moment was looked forward to for a cyclone. Three congregated around young James B. Pace, Jr., sleeping quarters, which is connected to his tobacco factory, lot of unknown persons, possibly for the purpose of seeing him. A bell had been placed above his room and clapped continuously for an hour. This noise caused him from his slumbers and he started to find out the cause when he saw the door opened, as soon as he did so numerous robbers from a 32 caliber, Smith & Wesson, passed his ear. This Pace could not stand and immediately closed the door, went to his resting chair and there remained until morning.

MURRAY--Among our many Breckenridge county attorneys, the name of Murray, while yet young he has won a mark for himself in many important legal transactions. He is connected with his father under the firm name of Murray & Murray. His, or rather "Old Soldier" as the boys call him, has another trait which is commendable to him, it being his good-heartedness, amiable disposition and a general allround good fellow.

KRONKA--In every venturesome mind their extra desire to secure means or transportation to the noted "Kronka." That beautiful strong colored oval face has a drawing quality for everyone. They love to hear it jingle in their pockets. This is the attraction and furthermore to secure wealth without toil. There are many here who love that desire and their aspirations are increasing daily.

WATER WORKS--If there ever was a town built in need of water, it is Cloverport. They are never so secured unless all hands work together. Not until a configuration takes place and completely wipes out the town will interest be taken. They have been fired, but the loss did not go into the thousands. Water works reduce insurance and is a great protection. The site is the best of any town, and the cost of construction is small. Wake up good people and let's have 'em.

ROMANCE--Before the Ohio reached its present height a certain young insurance salesman boy who had been living in this city but a short time, became infatuated with a handsome young lady living in the little town of Richmond, Ind.

He had made up his mind after the toll of a week's labor to spend a few hours pleasantly over there talking to a pretty blonde girl. A skiff was engaged and having a fascinating blonde on this side of the water, he asked her to go. Of course she was perfectly delighted. At noon Sunday he went to this young girl's home and they were soon off for their picnic. When the river had been reached they entered the boat. The question, whether he was an earnest, never occurred to her to ask. All went off along until the middle of the river and the reach of suddenly the river began to get somewhat rough and this young man was in a dilemma. It being his first experience upon the water and he didn't know what was the proper course to pursue. He jumped up from his seat and ran towards the stern of the boat. In so doing he fell and went headlong into the water. Had the river been otherwise than what he would have frown to death. He managed to catch hold of the boat, but could not get back to his former place, and his elegant companion was so delicate that she could not render him any assistance. This was awful, she was virtually left alone in the boat, the wind was getting intense and either side was eagerly sought. Finally she was laid with an over supply of courage and all of her efforts were put forth. The Indiana shore was reached about sun down and this brave hero was still clinging to the boat, but the Indiana girl didn't get in touch with her boat that Sunday. After an hour of drying out, another attempt was made for the boat, and they did come in safely. K. C. B.

Something To Know.

It may be worth something to know that the very best medicine for restoring the tired out nervous system to a healthy vigor is Electric Bitters. This medicine is purely vegetable, acting gently upon the Liver and Kidneys, and aids these organs in throwing off impurities in the blood. Electric Bitters improve the appetite, aid digestion, and is pronounced by those who have tried it as the very best blood purifier and nerve tonic. Try it. Sold for 50c or $1.00 per bottle at Short & Haynes' Drug store.

Mark Twain's Yell.

Nashville Banner: Mark Twain when starting on a tour round the world, told an interviewer at Winnipeg how he often felt a desire to "cut loose" from civilization and get away by himself where he could run and yell to his heart's content. In this connection there is a story about the humorist and Canon Kingsley. Walking along the streets one day, Mark felt the impulse to yell, coming on him with irresistible force, and said to Kingsley: "I want to yell, I must yell!" The canon said: "All right yell away! I don't mind." "And that," said Mark, "I stepped back a few steps and throwing my arms above my head, let out a war whoop that could be heard for miles, and in less than time could count ten Canon Kingsley and myself were surrounded by a multitude of anxious citizens who wanted to know what was the matter; I just wanted to yell, and had yelled."

Fatality of Croup.

Statistics show that thousands of infants and children die yearly of membranous croup. We do not exaggerate when we state that every one of these infants could have been saved had they been given Time's Eucalypti. Time's Eucalypti is a remedy that will without it in your household. T. Says Candies Won't Burn in Dawson.

"Talk about candles being burnt $1.50 apiece in Dawson; it's all wrong," said Charles Wray, yesterday. "I witnessed on the West fork of Stewart river in '94 and '95 with a party from Sika. We went into winter quarters early, having good prospects on a bar directly in front of our log cabin. We had plenty of supplies that we had hired the Indians to dig for us as they dug. Among other things we had a gross of tallow candles. Things went along nicely until Oct. 22, when at noon it began to grow cold. You could feel it settle down. The water in the box wouldn't run more than twelve feet without getting thick, so we quit work and went into the camp. We loaded the stove up with birch wood, the chimney lightly lit a candle, and then the light commenced to grow dim, and at all appearances went out. I was surprised upon examination, to find that the wax was still burning, but the tallow was not melting. I watched the work as it burned, the fire burning itself right in the candle until the wax was consumed at or down to the bottom, melting a whole about the size of a lead pencil through the tallow, but useless as a light, and we had to go to bed in the dark. Candies are not worth $1.50 each when the weather is real cold, for they won't burn."

Starvation in Cuba.

Secretary Sherman has issued his third appeal to the American public in behalf of the starving Cubans and again calls attention to the urgent necessity of the immediate relief, as follows: To the Public:

"The undersigned Secretary of State of the United States had the honor, on the 24th of December, to make known to all clearly distressed people of this country the appeal of the President for aid in the form of money or supplies, toward the speedy relief of the distressing destitution and suffering which exists among the people of Cuba.

"The gratifying interest which his countrymen have shown in all parts of our land in this humane appeal has led the President to recognize the need of orderly and concerted effort, under well directed control, if timely assistance is to be given by the public to the rich and needy in Cuba.

"It will be the office of the committee so organized not only to receive and forward to the United States Consul-General at Havana such money and necessary supplies as may be contributed by the people of the United States, but to invoke in its own name and through the three great interests it fully represents the concurrent effort of local relief boards throughout the United States, and to invite the kindly aid of the transportation agencies of the country for the conveyance of contributed supplies to the seaboard and their shipment thence to Cuba.

"The Consul-General at Havana is, in turn, assured of the effective co-operation of every valuable agency in the island of Cuba in order that life may be saved and suffering spared. The Spanish Government, welcoming the aid thus tendered, will facilitate the work, and to that end will admit into Cuba, free of duties and charges, all articles, otherwise liable to tax, when duly assigned to this Committee.

"By direction of the President the undersigned appeals to every patriotic citizen, to the municipal authorities thereof, and the local boards of trade and commerce, to corporations and others producing the necessities of life, and to all whose hearts are open to cry of distress and affliction, to second the generous effort now being made, and by well directed endeavor make its success truly responsive to the sentiments of charity that have ever characterized the American people."

JOHN SHERMAN, Secretary of State.

The Governor of Kentucky has likewise made an appeal of the same nature and has appointed W. G. Caldwell, of Louisville, Ky., as Chairman of the Relief Committee for Kentucky, to whom funds or supplies may be sent, properly marked "Cuban Relief Fund." Such funds or supplies will be promptly forwarded to the Central Relief Committee at New York, and through such Committee be properly distributed where most needed throughout the island of Cuba, and to which end the transportation companies have offered their facilities free and the Spanish and Cuban governments will lend every aid.

To Consumptives.

As an honest remedy, Foley's Honey and Tar does not hold out false hopes in advanced stages, but truthfully claims to give comfort and relief in the very most cases, and in early stages to effect a cure. A. R. Fisher, Cloverport; R. A. Shellen, Stephensport; Gordon & Haynes, Pateville; E. A. Wilt, Hardinsburg.

His Own Hope.

"Caracas on the boy!" cried the beary villain. "He stands between me and a splendid inheritance."

"Too bad! Too bad!" retorted the assistant villain. "I suppose you wouldn't want to?"

"Oh, it wouldn't do at all," said the heavy villain, with the usual villainous exclamations. "I'd be suspected, once if anything should happen to him."

"Then last one hope of getting rid of him remains," suggested the assistant villain. "You must get his father to take a house on the line of a trolley road." --Chicago Post.

The Most Fatal Disease.

It is not generally known that more deaths die of kidney trouble than of any other disease. When the first symptoms of this disease appear, no time should be lost in taking Foley's Kidney Cure, which is guaranteed or money refunded. --A. R. Fisher, Cloverport; R. A. Shellen, Stephensport; Gordon & Haynes, Pateville; E. A. Wilt, Hardinsburg.

A Difference.

"The chief difference between the man with a lot of seaweed money and the gentle saphy," said the corn fed philosopher, "is that the gentle saphy knows itself quietly." --Indianapolis Journal.

PUBLIC SPIRIT

A Birthday Present From His Father.

Mr. C. C. Corl was exceedingly happy and in the best of spirits yesterday, and any one under such circumstances would feel in the same mood, just at the present time. On Tuesday night he went to the post office after his mail, a square envelope greeted him, supposedly to be from his sweetheart or a friend, better than that. It was an envelope and letter from his aged father, written in his own hand. "This is a present from your father and it is the best he can do, as business is dull." It was only a check calling for $25.00 drawn on the German City Bank of Louisville. Mr. Corl was on yesterday 38 years of age. He came here last September to act in the capacity of manager of the "Fair" and his success has been two fold. He will in all probability resign and spend a portion of his time seeing the world. His father has been a retired merchant for nine years and since the death of his wife, he has been devoted to his son. Congratulations are in order. Home.

Demands The Opening of a Road and Should Be Opened.

It is understood that Mr. Henry R. President of the Breckenridge Asphalt Company, has made all arrangements to develop on a large scale the asphalt mine on his property at Cardiff, and the only thing that impedes his progress is the absence of an improved public highway. A private thoroughfare already connects with the mine, but this is insufficient, and a public road is needed. Some little opposition to the scheme of opening up a public road has been encountered. The development of this property will be assisted by such a road, and a highway of this character will enhance the value of all abutting property. It is to the interest of citizens of that neighborhood to open up a road to the mine, and a public highway of the matter will make it necessary to open it. It is hoped that all interested parties will give the matter their consideration, as it means the development of that community.
